Dear Meg,

Congratulations for being recognized as a featured Winner's Circle advisor in "The Top-Ranked Women Advisors in America," Research Magazine.

Winners of such a prestigious award not only demonstrate outstanding business acumen but are also of the highest moral and ethical standards. In this day and age, that's exactly what this business needs more of - hardworking men and women who excel in their professions and in their communities. And it's particularly gratifying to have you as part of the organization.

Your achievements have made the entire Royal Alliance family proud.

Congratulations again.

Warm regards,

Mark Goldberg
